

Managing Director Renewable Energy (m/f/d)

The EW Group is planning to bundle its existing and future international activities in the field of renewable energies in a new subsidiary and is looking for an entrepreneurial, strong and down-to-earth personality to manage and develop this business area independently. The strategic development of this new business division will be carried out in close coordination with the Group's international subsidiaries. As Managing Director of this company, you will report directly to the Management Board of the EW Group.

Your tasks:

- Independent development and management of a business unit for the planning, execution and implementation of various renewable energy projects at home and abroad
- Consulting and coordination of decentralised renewable energy projects in cooperation with the Group's international subsidiaries
- Development of an international team & network of renewable energy experts and service providers for the realisation of various projects
- Close coordination with the sustainability teams to continuously improve the Group's sustainability performance

Your profile:

- University degree and several years of practical work experience in the field of renewable energies
- Strong strategic-analytical and entrepreneurial way of thinking and acting
- High level of commitment, initiative and sense of responsibility
- First management experience, preferably in an international environment
- Down-to-earth and international
- Strong commercial skills combined with a proactive and hands-on mentality
- Very good knowledge of English and other foreign languages an advantage

The EW GROUP is an owner-managed, dynamically growing group of companies with more than 23,000 employees in over 45 countries, operating at the beginning of the value chain in the life science, healthcare and agricultural sectors. We achieve sustainable growth through intensive research and development activities and high quality standards. Our aim is to attract the best employees in their respective fields and encourage them to develop in an environment characterised by flat hierarchies, entrepreneurial freedom and fast decision-making processes.

If you are interested in this position, which we would like to fill as soon as possible, please send your application documents by e-mail to:

EW Group GmbH | Hogenbögen 1 | 49429 Visbek
Human Resources | Dr André Vielstädte | personal@ew-group.de